

How to COPYDAN

HVAD MÅ DU KOPIERE?

Fra hvert materiale må du højst kopiere

20% max. 50 sider
pr. studerende pr. halvår.

Dog altid 4 sider uanset materialets længde.

- Alle typer tekstudgivelser:
bøger, noder, sangtekster, tidsskrifter osv.
- Både digitale og trykte medier:
bøger, hjemmesider, e-bøger osv.
- Både danske og udenlandske udgivelser

Licenser og abonnementer

Digitalkopiering af tidsskrifter og andre licensbaserede, digitale udgivelser må kun finde sted i overensstemmelse med universitetets licenser. Du må altid printe og fotokopiere fra tidsskrifter mv., så længe du holder dig inden for 20 % max. 50 sider-reglen.

HVAD MÅ DU IKKE?

- Aviser må fotokopieres og printes
– ikke skannes eller digitalkopieres

WHAT MAY YOU COPY?

The most you may copy from one material is

20% max. 50 pages
per student per half year.

But always 4 pages, no matter how many pages
the material consists of.

- All types of published texts:
books, sheet music, lyrics, journals etc.
- Printed as well as digital material:
books, websites, e-books etc.
- Both Danish and foreign publications

Licences and subscriptions

You are always permitted to print or make photocopies of journals and other licence-based, digital publications with which the University has an agreement. Digital copying of these is only permitted in compliance with the individual licence.

WHAT MAY YOU NOT COPY?

- You may photocopy and print newspapers, but not scan or make a digital copy

It is important to always use the following format when referring to literature (both in the course descriptions, Moodle and elsewhere):

Johnsen, John (2020), "How to COPYDAN", AAU Publishing, Aalborg, pages 5-50. 45 pages total.

This makes it easier for students to find the material and meets the requirements for COPYDAN reporting.
